Remarks of the Chief Electoral Officer

It has been my privilege to serve as Chief Electoral Officer since December 9, 2013. Since my appointment, Elections Alberta has conducted six Provincial By-elections and one Provincial General Election. My Office has clearly demonstrated our ability to react and deliver professional election services at any time.

When I assumed office, plans were underway to support a Provincial General Election scheduled between March and May of 2016 as prescribed by the Election Act. The Lieutenant Governor passed an order authorizing the issuance of the writs of election on April 7, 2015. Election Day was May 5, 2015, one year earlier than anticipated.

My Office lost a full year of pre-election preparation as a result of the early election call and we faced many challenges in delivering a successful election result. We were able to adapt and adjust our election preparations to manage and conduct the election in a professional and efficient manner while meeting all our legislative responsibilities.

Many event readiness activities planned for the period April 2015 to March 2016 were cancelled or revised as a result of the date of the issue of the writs:

- recruiting and training of returning officers, election clerks, trainers and administrative assistants were accelerated and fast tracked;
- a province-wide election map and voter list review by returning officers were scaled back to 20 electoral divisions identified as having the highest growth; and
- we cancelled a planned province wide mail based enumeration scheduled for September 2015.

Legislative amendments approved by our Standing Committee on Legislative Offices to allow the use of vote tabulators at advance polls were not approved by the Legislature in time for the provincial election. As previously reported, the tabulators were successfully introduced at advance polls during the October 27, 2014 by-elections held in Calgary-Elbow; Calgary-Foothills; Calgary-West and Edmonton-Whitemud.

My Office is restricted from introducing best practices identified by other election agencies and in modernizing the electoral process in Alberta. The prescriptive and outdated language of the existing Election Act and Election Finances and Contributions Disclosure Act restricts the introduction of technology and product innovation needed to meet the changing needs of our stakeholders.

I have included recommendations to address my concerns under the Election Act in this report. A significant re-write of the legislation needs to be undertaken to ensure an enabling legislative structure rather than a prescriptive legislative structure for elections that protects the key principles of fairness of process, accessibility for all stakeholders and integrity of the results while ensuring that it is written in plain language that is easy to understand and interpret for all interested parties.

Presentations were delivered to our Standing Committee and the Select Special Ethics and Accountability Committee mandated with reviewing electoral legislation. I look forward to working with Members of the Legislative Assembly to ensure updated legislation is in place for the next Provincial General Election.

Elections Alberta introduced a number of improvements to the delivery of election services to all our stakeholders during the 2015 Provincial General Election:

- individual “Where to Vote” cards were provided to each elector on the voters list prior to advance voting;
- increased staff resources were allocated to advance polls to accommodate increasing voter turnout during the four-day period;
- improved voter education and engagement strategies incorporated into the communication plan, using enhanced media outreach including TV and online advertising, and an expanded social media presence to inform and to engage; and
- improved online access to election information via our website.

I would like to acknowledge the important role registered political parties, candidates, media and teachers play in engaging current and future voters in the democratic process. Voter participation or turnout is a key indicator of the level of public interest in contributing to the democratic process. We all have a role in promoting voter turnout at the polls. Together we can ensure that electors are knowledgeable of the electoral process, well informed about party platforms and candidate choices and motivated to participate at the polls.

I would not be able to successfully perform my mandated duties without the help and support of a strong team of dedicated professionals at Elections Alberta. I am also indebted to our partner agencies who assisted with the provision of data, the development of communication resources, the support of information technology systems and staffing of public call centres.

Most importantly, during an election period I am dependent on 87 returning officers to recruit, hire and train over 16,000 dedicated Albertans to provide services to electors at the polls across Alberta. Returning officers and their staff members were tasked with the challenge of conducting an electoral event on short notice in a professional and efficient manner in their electoral division. The effective conduct of the election is a tribute to their commitment in preparing for the event and managing the numerous challenges that each day brought.

I am honoured to serve my province, grateful for the support of my team, and to Albertans from across the province who dedicated themselves to provide a safe, accessible and efficient election environment for electors that protected the integrity and accuracy of the voting results while promoting increased voting opportunities for all electors.

Sincerely,

Communications

Our enhanced communication strategy was designed to ensure our election advertising campaign was communicated through all available outlets. We utilized newspaper, radio, television, website and a broad range of social media outlets to deliver our election message to all electors in Alberta.

Our goal was to educate and inform electors about the voting process and encourage them to participate and vote at the polls. We accomplished this by expanding our communications to reach all elector age groups throughout Alberta using the communication vehicle they most commonly accessed. The table below highlights how Albertans access information by age group.

Weekly Reach by Age Group Market: Alberta

Age:	Internet	Magazine	Newspaper (Daily)	Radio	Television	Community Newspapers
18-24	99%	45%	31%	76%	86%	18%
25-34	95%	42%	31%	80%	82%	25%

Pre-Election Outreach

Stakeholder groups with unique requirements to access the ballot box and participate in the voting process were identified well in advance of the election. A pre-election outreach strategy was developed to meet with representatives of each stakeholder group to identify their needs, obtain input on how we can best address their needs and identify a workable solution for their members. We then ensured the preferred solution to overcome their access issues was available for the 2015 Provincial General Election and was communicated to their membership in a timely manner using their existing member communication networks prior to Election Day.

Stakeholder groups could sign up to receive:

- an email notice of voting dates from our office once the writs of election were issued;
- a link to find polling place information; and
- Special Ballot voting information, including contact information for sources of additional assistance. This service was particularly useful to electors who expected to be out of the province during the election period. Once the writ is issued, electors only have 28 days to receive and return a completed Special Ballot.

Specific pre-election outreach targeted the following groups:

- Canadian Forces:

The Judge Advocate General circulated an internal document outlining requirements and best methods for members of the Canadian Forces to participate in the election. The Judge Advocate General website was also linked to Elections Alberta's main page for additional information.

- Disability Community:

An information sheet outlining voting procedures and new election materials was distributed to various organizations within this group.

- Ethno-cultural communities and new Canadians:

A letter providing information on how eligible electors can participate in the election was sent to cultural and community centres across the province. Electors were directed to posters in polling stations, which explained elector eligibility and provided instructions on how to mark a ballot in 14 languages to assist those who were unfamiliar with the voting process.

- First Nations:

A full time liaison facilitated communications with First Nations communities. First Nations communities were asked if a poll on their reserve land was desired, and were offered the opportunity of identifying election officers.

There are approximately 56 First Nations in Alberta. Of these, seven are designated as remote areas and voted by Special Ballot. Of the remaining nations, 15 chose to have a poll on site.

- Homeless:

Shelter administrators received an information packet to assist electors who received services at homeless shelters. Packets included letters of attestation that could be provided to homeless electors by shelter administrators to use as identification for the purpose of voting.

- Incarcerated:

Information on obtaining Special Ballots was provided to Correctional Services for distribution to inmates of correctional facilities. Letters of attestation were provided to serve as inmates' identification, when signed by a facility administrator.

- Law Enforcement Agencies:

Notification was sent to law enforcement officials regarding candidates' and campaign workers' statutory rights of access to multi-unit dwellings.

- Multi-unit Dwellings:

A notice was provided through the apartment and condo associations to the majority of managers/owners of apartments and condos. Former law enforcement officers were hired to assist campaigns that had difficulties arranging for access to multi-unit dwellings.

- Post-secondary:

With the aid of student unions and student associations, information booths were placed on 29 campuses. Staff at these booths were available to help students register to vote, request a Special Ballot and find the appropriate channels for additional information. Two campuses with a small student population had resource material placed on site.

Polling stations were established in five post-secondary institutions to serve the resident population on site in these locations.

- Seniors:

An information sheet outlining voting procedures and new election materials was distributed to various organizations within this stakeholder group including Seniors and Community Supports, Canadian Snowbird Association, CARP (Canadian Association of Retired Persons) and Edmonton Seniors Coordinating Council.

- Work Camps:

Companies managing 120 work camps across the province were given Special Ballot posters and information cards to distribute to electors potentially absent from their electoral division during the election period. Information cards urged absentee electors to request a Special Ballot early in the election period.

CIVIX – Student Vote

Elections Alberta partnered with CIVIX to deliver the Student Vote election program to elementary, junior high and high school students throughout Alberta. Every electoral division had students participating. There were 877 schools registered with 92,457 students participating.

Political Party and Campaign Outreach

Elections Alberta staff provided information relevant to political parties, candidates and their volunteers at campaign colleges prior to the start of the election period. Each of the sessions was attended by political party representatives, candidates, chief financial officers and official agents seeking to gain a better understanding of the statutory requirements.

Four sessions were provided: Calgary, Edmonton and two in Red Deer. These sessions provided information on registration requirements, contribution limits, issuance of official contribution receipts, restrictions on spending activities, advertising, filing of nomination papers and filing of financial statements.

Election Period Outreach

Public outreach throughout the election period used various communication channels. Electors had access to election information via newspaper, radio, internet, television, movie theatres and social media.

Notice of Election (NOE) cards, containing key election dates, were delivered to every residential address in the province; and Approximately 1,925,000 residences received an NOE card in the first two weeks of the election period. Electors were provided with the dates and times for voting, along with contact information for obtaining further election information by telephone, email or online.

Approximately 2,443,630 electors were mailed a WTV card prior to the commencement of advance voting. Each elector received the polling location name and address for voting at the advance polls and on Election Day and contact information for their local returning officer, along with other detailed election information.

Delivery of WTV cards was restricted to those residences in the Register of Electors that had a mailable address that conformed to Canada Post standards. If the home address was not capable of receiving mail and the elector had a separate, Canada Post compliant mailing address, the card was sent to the mailing address. We cannot identify the electoral division or polling subdivision of an elector's residence without a physical address to locate on a map. The location where the elector was directed to vote was based on their physical address.

- Elections Alberta Website:

Expanded online resources were available around the clock. Most electors were able to determine where to vote and whether they were registered to vote online. Many rural electors needed additional call centre assistance to identify their polling location online due to problems encountered with identifying their rural address on our website. We have identified rural addressing issues as a priority project to address prior to the next Provincial General Election.

- Social Media Websites:

Banner advertisements appeared on popular online news sites to provide a link to the Elections Alberta website. Display ads were delivered over a three-week period, inviting users to “click through” to the Elections Alberta main page.

We generated over 18,650,000 campaign impressions from our social media campaign on @ElectionsAb / #ChooseYourAlberta / #ElectionsAlberta.

Twitter	-	789,400 impressions from 197 tweets
YouTube	-	50,300 combined views from 7 videos
Facebook	-	43,500 combined likes, comments and shares from 13 posts

Influencer outreach resulted in 1,180,000 impressions across all channels (“get out and vote” messages posted by local and national celebrities and media personalities from television and radio).

- Television:

Elections Alberta TV ads had 16,046,300 total campaign impressions for adults aged 25-49

- Radio:

Elections Alberta radio ads had 7,217,680 total campaign impressions for adults aged 25-49

- Movie Theatre:

Elections Alberta theatre ads had 648,486 total campaign impressions for adults aged 25-49

- Online:

Standard desktop and Mobile/PreRoll ads had 7,144,196 total impressions

- YouTube and Facebook – 28,000 views
- Google AdWords – 10,699 clicks

Overall our engagement campaign in these mediums generated 31,086,662 campaign impressions.

The website also supplied general information on eligibility requirements, dates and times for voting and options for electors who were away from home or who had other unique needs. The general information included notification of recent legislative amendments that affected electors, including new voting options for students, an additional advance poll voting day and curbside voting for disabled electors at a voting location. Contact information for Elections Alberta and the returning officers was available to allow electors with specific questions to communicate in writing, in person, by phone or by email.

Electors could apply online to work at the polls and could submit a Special Ballot request online.

- Handheld Devices:

Elections Alberta's where-to-vote website was designed to accommodate access by handheld devices for electors who wished to obtain general information or to determine where to vote.

At the close of polls on Election Day, the website provided unofficial results on a poll by poll basis. These results were posted by returning officers as unofficial counts were completed and communicated by election officers across the province.

- Telephone:

The voter information call centre staff were provided with enhanced resources to prepare for the anticipated high volume of calls; most often, guidance on where and when to vote. Staff were available from 8 am to 8 pm on weekdays and polling days and 9 am to 4 pm on weekends.

Staff assisted 31,653 callers throughout the election period and kept pace with the volume of calls, including the 7,170 calls received on Election Day.

- Email:

Electors were provided with a dedicated email address to communicate with Elections Alberta. Electors received 9,775 individualized responses to each of their specific concerns or questions from the drop of the writ until Election Day.

- Newspapers:

As in previous elections, electors could consult local newspapers for information on polling places, dates and times for voting, in accordance with sections 55 and 70 of the Election Act. Newspaper advertisements in 140 newspapers provided information on voting opportunities for electors who were away from home or who had other unique needs.

In major centres, inserts were used in daily newspapers in lieu of individual advertisements throughout.

Legislative and Procedural Changes

Legislative amendments consequential to the Election Accountability Amendment Act, 2012 which received Royal Assent on December 10, 2012 were implemented for the first time in a general election. Highlights of the Election Act changes are listed below.

- Students studying away from home, within Alberta, were permitted to choose the place they reside for their studies as their ordinary place of residence for voting purposes (section 1(2.2));
- Nomination day was changed from day 14 to day 10 after writ (section 39(c));
- Electors were permitted to inspect nomination papers filed by candidates in their electoral division on application to the returning officer (section 59(5));
- Persons aged sixteen or seventeen were permitted to be appointed as poll clerks (section 73(1.1));
- Returning officers were permitted to appoint information officers at each polling place to assist electors and maintain peace and order (sections 1(i) and 75.1);
- Scrutineers were no longer required to reside in the electoral division in which they were appointed; scrutineers were required to comply with a code of conduct established by the Chief Electoral Officer (section 79);
- Where an elector was unable to access the polling place due to physical incapacity, the poll clerk and other election officer(s) were authorized to bring the ballot box to some other place on the polling place site (section 96(1.1));
- The number of days for the advance poll was increased from three days to four (section 98(3));
- Political parties, constituency associations and candidates were required to comply with extended advertising rules and new guidelines established by the Chief Electoral Officer (section 134); and
- Persons or organizations which conducted election surveys during the election period were required to comply with new rules and new guidelines established by the Chief Electoral Officer (section 135.11).

New Initiatives

The Chief Electoral Officer introduced several successful new initiatives in the 2014 by-elections to improve services to the electors and stakeholders and to assist returning officers in the performance of their duties. These initiatives were implemented in the 2015 Provincial General Election.

- Poll clerks were provided election training;
- Trainer positions were appointed by returning officers to schedule and conduct training of all advance poll and Election Day election officers;
- Online training resources were created by Elections Alberta and provided to election officers to assist in teaching the proper method of completing Election Day forms and documentation;
- “Where to Vote” cards were mailed to individual electors on the Register of Electors and to every residential address that had no electors on the Register, in all 87 electoral divisions;
- Barcodes containing elector identification numbers were printed on “Where to Vote” cards that were mailed to electors on the Register of Electors, and in the poll books, allowing for the collection of statistical and demographic information on voter participation; and
- Site monitor personnel were provided upon request at polling places located in schools for added safety and security.

Challenges

Challenges inevitably arise in managing an event of this scope, in spite of thorough advance preparations.

We had the challenge of recruiting, hiring and training returning officers and election clerks on short notice as a result of the snap election call. Several staff were brought in from outside the electoral division in order to deliver the election.

Obtaining office space for 87 returning officers and their staff is increasingly difficult throughout Alberta. We receive little notice and only require the space for six weeks. Landlords and real estate agents are reluctant to assist or deal with us for such a short term lease even when vacant space is available in the community. When we are successful in obtaining vacant space for a returning office, we generally pay top end prices for a short term lease, particularly in large urban centres like Calgary and Edmonton.

Polling locations for advance polls are more difficult to obtain because we now require the space for four complete days of advance voting. We typically use community facilities like churches, community halls and arenas for advance polls and these facilities have to cancel revenue generating programs to accommodate our needs for four days.

Polling locations in schools become more problematic with a snap election call because the school gyms across Alberta are fully programmed and booked for student and local community activities prior to an election being called. A fixed election date and designating Election Day as a non-instructional school day would address the challenges associated in obtaining polling locations.

The majority of complaints received throughout the election period related to:

- electors who were unable to determine their voting location online using our website in rural areas across Alberta; and
- unwanted telephone calls from political campaigns throughout the election period.

The timely payment of over 16,000 election staff is a significant administrative challenge. Returning officers were able to access an online payment approval process within the Alberta Comprehensive Election System (ACES).

Cheques were delivered to 95% of Election Day workers within two weeks of the event.

Election Recruitment and Training

Returning officers are assisted by three staff during the election period: an election clerk, an administrative assistant, and a training officer. The election clerk, appointed by the Chief Electoral Officer, shares many of the responsibilities of the returning officer and replaces the returning officer if he or she is unable to fulfil the responsibilities of the role. The administrative assistant manages the operation of the Special Ballot poll, data management and reception. The trainer is responsible for setting up, scheduling, and delivering training programs, and identifying applicants not suited for election official duties. All four positions received standardized training by Elections Alberta.

Returning officers are responsible for the recruitment and appointment of the front-line election officers who staff the advance polls and Election Day polls. They target community groups and contact electors with enumeration or election experience to work in the polls. Recruitment by returning officers ranged from a low of 104 staff to a high of 334 election workers.

Returning officers and trainers received educational resources to equip them to train election officers: supervisory deputy returning officers, registration officers, deputy returning officers, poll clerks and information officers. They were provided with a complete training presentation package complete with speaking notes. In addition, for the first time Elections Alberta provided online instruction for all election officials on how to complete all election forms used at the polls.

In total, returning officers and trainers delivered Election Day training to approximately 16,000 Albertans to staff the polls on Election Day. This demanding task is accomplished in the latter part of the 28-day election period. Forty-nine percent of the election costs are allocated to election officers' fees and associated expenses.

With each election, new voting options are introduced to accommodate electors' needs. As voting options increase, the demands on election officers become increasingly complex. Options will be examined to enhance the training and support provided to election officers to better equip them for performing multiple tasks and completing various prescribed forms over the course of a 14-plus hour work day.

Candidate Registration and Nomination

The Election Finances and Contributions Disclosure Act (EFCDA) requires all political parties, constituency associations and candidates to be registered with Elections Alberta.

Each candidate must register with Elections Alberta prior to raising or spending money on their campaign. Candidates register by filing an Application for Registration of a Candidate in accordance with the EFCDA. Once candidates are registered, they are eligible to file nomination papers with the returning officer in the electoral division in which they wish to contest the election.

Nomination day was Friday, April 17, 2015; the last day on which prospective candidates were able to file nomination papers and submit their $500 nomination deposit. At the close of nominations, 412 candidates had registered under the EFCDA and 400 had filed nomination papers in accordance with section 61 of the Election Act. One candidate withdrew prior to the close of nominations and did not appear on the ballot. Another candidate withdrew, following the close of nominations, and a notice of withdrawal was provided to each deputy returning officer within the electoral division, as per section 65(3) of the Election Act. No candidate was elected by acclamation.

A listing by political party affiliation follows, showing the number of candidates that registered, filed nomination papers and filed financial statements.

Political Party Affiliation	Candidates Registered	Candidates Nominated	Candidates Filed on Time
Alberta First Party	1	1	1

Party and Candidate Financial Disclosure

Registered candidates were required to file campaign period financial statements with Elections Alberta by September 8, 2015. Three hundred and ninety-eight registered candidates met the statutory filing deadline and the nomination deposits of $500 were refunded to each of the candidates' campaigns.

All nine registered political parties that participated in the election were required to file campaign period financial statements by November 5, 2015. Seven parties filed by the filing deadline. These statements list funds received, campaign expenditures and transfer of funds and/or materials.

Every Third Party Advertiser that is registered or required to be registered must file an election advertising report outlining the election advertising costs incurred and the contributions received, within six months of polling day. Of the nine registered third party advertisers, only three reported having received contributions and expended funds on political advertising during the election period.

In accordance with section 11 of the EFCDA, all financial statements are available for inspection in the public files maintained by this Office. Disclosure of candidate, party and third party election expenses are available on our website (www.elections.ab.ca) in accordance with section 4(1)(d) of the EFCDA.

Voting Options

Special Ballot Polls

Special Ballot polls were held at returning offices throughout the election period to facilitate voting for electors who were not able to vote at the advance poll or on Election Day. Special Ballots may be mailed out as requested by the elector or may be completed in the returning office. A total of 12,317 valid special ballots were cast.

Advance Polls

By legislation, advance polls were held in each of the electoral divisions from Wednesday April 29, 2015 to Saturday May 2, 2015 from 9:00 am to 8:00 pm daily. Forty-five of the 161 advance polls across the province were held in the returning officers' offices.

Nine hundred and ninety-seven election officers were recruited, hired and trained for advance polls.

A total of 234,659 valid ballots were cast at the advance polls over four days, representing 15.77% of all valid ballots cast.

Mobile Polls

By legislation, mobile polls were held on Election Day, May 5, 2015 in treatment centers and supportive living facilities with ten or more inpatients or electors, where consultation with facility staff determine the service to be appropriate.

A deputy returning officer and a poll clerk, along with a facility representative, set up a stationary poll in a fixed location, went bed to bed, or both, depending on the situation.

In total, 230 mobile polls were held in 577 facilities across the province on Election Day, staffed by 462 poll workers. A total of 22,505 valid ballots were cast at mobile polls.

Election Day

Election Day was held on Tuesday, May 5, 2015. There were 6,489 polling stations in 1,431 polling locations across the province. Returning officers and their staff recruited, hired and trained 15,577 election officers. Three hundred and fifteen of these positions were site monitors that were requested by school principals. An additional 451 workers were trained as back up staff but were not used.

A total of 278,390 electors registered to vote by completing a Declaration of Elector at the time of voting. Election Day registrations are a good measure of the quality of the List of Electors compiled for use by election officers and political participants. Based on the number of names on the list after declarations were added, only 9.87% of electors were added to the List.

There were 1,495,405 ballots cast in the election, placing the voter turn-out at 57.02%.

The writ of election and the Returning Officers' Certificate and Return, certifying each candidate's election, were returned to the Chief Electoral Officer on May 19, 2015. The Certificate and Returns each state the Members dually elected and this information was published in the June 15, 2015 issue of the Alberta Gazette.

Judicial Recount

The Calgary-Glenmore unofficial count took place after the close of polls on election night and resulted in a tie between the New Democratic Party and the Progressive Conservative Party candidates. An official count was performed by the returning officer with scrutineers in attendance. Formal objections to the counting of certain ballots were registered with the returning officer by both candidates. The tie vote was revised to a six vote difference between the two candidates with the New Democratic Party candidate declared the winner.

An application for a judicial recount was made to the Court of Queen's Bench which took place on Monday June 1, 2015 with the Honourable Mr. Justice A. D. Macleod presiding.

Eight ballots were revised by Justice Macleod with each candidate receiving an additional three votes. Justice Macleod certified the results to the returning officer, who then declared Anam Kazim, candidate for the New Democratic Party, as the winning candidate.

No appeal to the Court of Appeal was made.

Production of the Post-Polling Day List of Electors

Elector information collected throughout the election period and on polling day was incorporated into the Register of Electors for preparation of future Lists of Electors. Post-election data entry was performed in Edmonton.

Lists were updated following the election by:

- 245,298 persons - moving electors from old to new addresses;
- 131,886 persons - adding first time electors;
- correcting polling subdivision assignments, where necessary; and
- 425,661 persons - correcting names and addresses, where required.

Lists will be made available to registered political parties and Members of the Legislative Assembly by April 2016, in accordance with section 19(2) of the Election Act. Data files are downloaded via secure internet connection to safeguard the transmission of personal information. Restrictions for use prescribed in section 20 are provided to List recipients to ensure elector information is used appropriately. Penalties for misuse include fines up to $100,000, or a term of imprisonment up to one year, or both.

Note: Historically, the largest voter turnout was 81.8%, which occurred at the General Election of August 22, 1935. The smallest voter turnout was 40.6% on March 3, 2008. Declined ballots were not recorded until the 1993 General Election.

*Voter turnout is calculated based on the elector count on the post-polling day Lists of Electors. These Lists include the number of names on the Lists of Electors after the target enumeration, with the addition of elector information from the revision period, online registrations and polling day swear-ins. Names of duplicated, relocated and deceased electors have been removed to provide a more accurate number of names on the Lists of Electors.

Electoral Summary 1905 - 2015

The number of provincial electoral divisions has increased from 25 at the first general election in 1905 to 87 at the 2012 election. Electoral division boundaries are reviewed by an independent commission in accordance with the Electoral Boundaries Commission Act. The following is a summary of the changes:

Demographics

Number of Votes by Voting Opportunity

The trend of more votes being cast per general election has continued into 2015, resulting in the highest number of ballots ever cast in an Alberta Provincial General Election at 1,495,405 ballots.

Percent of Votes by Voting Opportunity

Advance polls have become increasingly popular, now that there are no restrictions on eligibility to vote at an advance poll. Electors are now provided four additional days in which to vote.

Gender Statistics

Overall, the gender statistics for the province of Alberta as a whole revealed women vote more than men. The variance between genders in the 2015 General Election is 3.27%. Of the total people who voted, 1.03% do not disclose their gender in the permanent register of electors. The split is also relatively equal between the two major cities, Edmonton and Calgary, and rural areas.

Age Statistics

Province-wide people who are in the 65+ age group make up the largest percentage of voters (21.01%). This was also true in Edmonton, where the 65+ age range made up 19.78% of voters. In Calgary, the age range that made up the largest percentage of voters is 45-54 (20.07%). The disparity between 18-24 voters and 65+ voters is seen in larger numbers outside of Edmonton and Calgary, where the 65+ age range made up 23.23% of voters.

Calgary Municipal Census

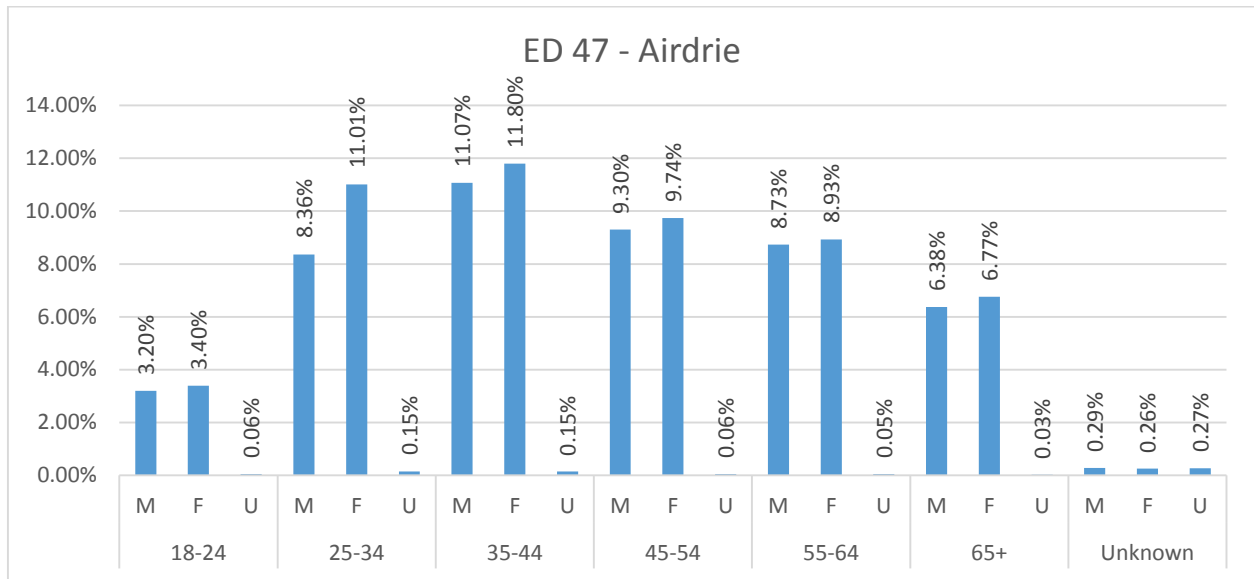

Data for the Calgary Municipal Census comes from the City of Calgary site². It is noted that the City of Calgary does not release individual age counts as the City of Edmonton does, and divides their data into ranges. One range that applies partially to registered voters is the 15-19 range, which includes 18 and 19 year olds that are eligible to vote.

Note: Percentage of voter turnout includes rejected and declined ballots, in addition to valid ballots cast, as reflected in the poll-by-poll results commencing on page 85. Names appear in order and as recorded on ballots. Names in bold print represent elected candidates. Percentage of votes polled may not sum to 100% due to rounding.

Voter turnout is calculated based on the elector count on the post-polling day List of Electors. The lists include the number of names on the List of Electors, with the additions of elector information from the revision period, online registrations, and polling day declarations.
